NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—[Special.]—The fourth dividend from the liquidation of the Tribune, St. Louis & Pacific Railway comes and passes this day, and as the directors have declared their intention of paying no more dividends until the general and common stock shall receive a dividend of 10 per cent, and to have such accumulated profits, and this dividend depending on the future earnings of the road, it can not be expected that any dividend will be declared on the stock for a long time to come. The Northwestern's Coup D'Etat—Grand Combination—Other Changes for a Settlement of the Eastern Difficulties.

The announcement in yesterday's Tribune that the Northwestern had decided to withdraw from the Western Trunk-Line association for the purpose of the Grand City & Pacific Road, which it has lately acquired, for purchase, and further that Grand & Green of the Columbia Bridge had become interested in the proposition made known the following day, and confirmed by the officers of the Northwestern, was not quite true. The Northwestern has not yet been brought officially to the notice of the meeting, but will no doubt assume by the discussion today. It is generally asserted that this action on the part of the Northwestern completes the alliances of the Western roads with Jordan, and over this have been questions pertinent a progression of the troubles but no longer progress of the result and express that the fighting will be accomplished. The action of the Northwestern has not generally created an abandonment of the Western Trunk Line association, but it is quietly probable that an arrangement can soon be made for its future continuance. The Grand Trunk people are pleased that they will soon have the handling of the Columbia Bridge business, and it is said to be quite probable that the Grand Trunk will withdraw from the Eastern Trunk-Line association, and make a direct connection with the Columbia Bridge. It is also said that the Grand Trunk people will make a proposition to the Northwestern to purchase the Grand City & Pacific Road, and thus secure a direct line to Chicago. It is also said that the Grand Trunk people will make a proposition to the Northwestern to purchase the Grand City & Pacific Road, and thus secure a direct line to Chicago. The Grand City & Pacific Road, which is to be sold at the foot of Lake street, Chicago, on the 15th inst., is a road of 100 miles in length, and runs from Chicago to Grand City, Mich. It is a well-built road, and has been operated by the Northwestern for some time past. It is also said that the Grand Trunk people will make a proposition to the Northwestern to purchase the Grand City & Pacific Road, and thus secure a direct line to Chicago.

The Trouble about the Arbitrators' Award—Grand Passenger Agreement Broken.

The fact that the trouble between the Eastern lines, Erie, and Grand Trunk railroads changed the representation of each Grand passenger from Chicago for the Chicago and Grand Trunk roads to Commissioner Fink was communicated to the Tribune. The proceedings were carried to Commissioner Fink that he is to have.

He says the Irish evening classes open to progress under the protective policy of their sire. He criticises Mr. Blaine for not creating a protective policy for America.

Mr. John E. Lamb was renominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Eighth Indiana (Terre Haute) District yesterday. Mr. Lamb was elected two years ago on a protectionist Democratic by a majority of 600. The vote for the Harrison ticket, thereby trebling his predecessor, pledged, and effected a large majority of the constituency. He is deserved to defeat him from.

John G. Warrens, the poet, is a letter to Mr. Cabot Lodge, Chairman of the Massachusetts Republican Committee, declining a subscription to the campaign fund, says he is not prepared to abandon Republicanism and go over to a party whose principles and measures he has opposed for a quarter of a century. He hopes that Massachusetts will give the usual majority to the Republican ticket this fall.

Mr. Pendleton moved yesterday in the British Commons to discharge the grant for the endowment of the Queen's College in Cork. He said the grant should be discontinued in the support of the Archbishopric of the country. Mr. T. P. O'Connor, one of Mr. Parnell's supporters, who is a graduate of the Queen Queen's College, spoke in favor of the grant, which was passed by a vote of 180 to 70.

The Democratic managers of Wisconsin are much disturbed at the struggle in the Fond du Lac district preventing the Congressional nomination. The friends of Hon. Bragg say they will nominate their man and elect him. The friends of ex-Senator Doolittle say that, if they fail to nominate him, they will vote and work against Bragg at all hazards. They declare that if Bragg runs they will defy the State ticket.

In New York and Boston attention to the several Independent meetings to be held to-night, and even the Schoolchildren hold to sign pledges to vote for Cleveland, giving their names and addresses. A number of young men through a mere spirit of emulation have secured tickets, and have signed fictitious names when entering the meeting places. They greatly swelled the audiences' numbers and the number of the accepts of the future movement, besides largely to the presence of the coming event.

The Northwest annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America met in the United Brethren Church of this city yesterday morning, the Rev. James H. Cleary of Winnebago, President of the union, in the chair. After some preliminaries the convention proceeded to elect three officers of the ensuing year, the following being elected: President, the Rev. Mr. Cleary, reelected by acclamation; Secretary, Miss Mary Ryan of Chicago; Treasurer, Mr. Thomas Ryan of Chicago. The meeting in the afternoon was an elegant address concerning the progress of the movement and the duties of Catholics to assist in the promotion of temperance by every means in their power. The members also admitted the report, which exhibited gratifying progress in several places, particularly in Chicago and Philadelphia.

It is seriously proposed by leading Democrats—by Mr. James B. Eads among others—to withdraw Cleveland from the head of the Democratic ticket. The Buffalo exposé has told terribly against the Democratic brethren. His friends have not been able to explain away the circumstances. Some of the several defenses published for the Governor's friends are weak. The people of America are not prepared to elect a Harlem to the highest office in their gift. Mr. Cleveland himself seems to feel the embarrassing position, and refuses to talk on the matter. Mr. David Dudley Field's opinion, which is a graduate of the Harlem Bench's College, spoke in favor of the grant, which was passed by a vote of 180 to 70.

It is understood that Theodore Roosevelt in preparing a speech to which he will assert that Mr. Grover Cleveland is not a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat; that the so-called reform tendencies of the New York Governor were but mere pretenses; and that his assumption of political honesty was merely to catch votes. Mr. Roosevelt, it appears, was in the habit of addressing his wife in Mr. Cleveland, who was always ready with suggestions of change, the change in all cases being in the interest of Mr. Cleveland or some of his friends. Mr. Roosevelt, using Mr. Cleveland's doubtful utterances, refused at one time to submit to his wife in him, but eventually yielded at the instance of the Governor himself. From this Mr. Cleveland assumed his old habit, and made changes to suit himself. Mr. Roosevelt's speech is likely to create another sensation in the Independents, and particularly in the Independent wing.

LABOR'S WARNING TO LABOR.

The meetings of labor in the Democratic party and in Cleveland are coming thick and fast. The New York Trades assembly will meet at Utica the 12th inst., and the report as to what legislation in that State has been done will be presented to the convention. Gompers, the Cigarmakers' delegate, the Cannonmakers' delegate, the Labor Bureau, and committee of Cleveland have brought to bear to secure a change in the report. It will be presented to the assembly and adopted as it stands, but not in the Board of Supervisors' Industry Guards to Utica.

Still more vigilance in the alarm which has been sounded by the Federal Right-Labor Congress in its recent special addressed to the labor organizations of the whole country. In this circular they call attention to the rule of all the Southern Democrats in the last Congress towards labor measures, and to the unfriendly tone or general opinions for the benefit of workingmen and the repeated vetoes of Democratic appeal to the following the example from the chamber.

In connection with the last paragraph there arose a question as to whether Cleveland's letter of acceptance was not a sufficient pledge to labor. Some of the delegates thought it was not, that the "reforms" mentioned in it were not specific enough, and that Cleveland might construe them to suit himself. Others thought that the letter was sufficient, as it was the chief of the Democratic party, and that it would be a breach of faith to ask for more. The question was finally settled by the adoption of a resolution declaring that the letter of acceptance was not sufficient, and that a committee be appointed to wait upon Cleveland and ask him to state more definitely his position on the labor questions.

The committee further had attention to the shoemaking vote by which Gen. Butler's labor plank was omitted, and to the bond which was asked in favor of the nomination of Cleveland over the united protests of the representatives of New York, whose to had caused much embarrassment to the labor organizations.

The point made by the committee that the Butler is not on the line of the workingmen, or "the regular ticket," as it was termed, is not likely to cause much trouble. It appears that the labor organizations in New York had originally intended to support the regular ticket, but the gerrymander in the Democratic party was so strong that it was thought best to secure what they could from the Democrats. The latter's managers, the Committee of the Labor Bureau, and committee of Cleveland have brought to bear to secure a change in the report. It will be presented to the assembly and adopted as it stands, but not in the Board of Supervisors' Industry Guards to Utica.

The Republican County Central Committee met last night, and, after a long session, adjourned without doing anything. The object of the meeting was to discuss the question of ordering the nomination of the Senatorial candidate. There was also considerable talk in regard to the disorganized condition of affairs, and the action of the Central Republican Club in attempting to control this body, which properly belongs to the rightful representatives from the different wards of the city. The action of the Central Republican Club in attempting to control this body, which properly belongs to the rightful representatives from the different wards of the city, was severely criticised, and many pointed remarks were made in regard to the interference of outside parties in the affairs of the Committee

It is understood that the lease entered by the management of the Hanson-Rubin Company at the Exposition Building are to the satisfaction of both. The demand for money was very moderate yesterday and there was a disposition to accept quotations at slight rates. As the year further and further from the day when the law of supply and demand will govern the rates for money, the tendency is to ignore the opinion of those who look to that day to supply their needs. Time money is now nearly half what it is offered at to get over the year-end period. Borrowers are not borrowing more than they have to, and lenders are not lending more than they have to. Current rates of interest are considered unsatisfactory to lenders and moderate rates of profit for short periods. The short rates for money over the year-end period are not attractive.
